2025 Class Schedule

The All Star Dance Camp 2025 Class Schedule is Here!

The wait is over! Get ready to dive into this summer's exciting lineup of classes and start planning your ultimate camp experience.

With a variety of levels and styles to choose from, the schedule offers something for everyone. Feeling overwhelmed? Don't worry! Think of it as a buffet: pick your favorites, try something new, and save some energy for the legendary evening parties—you'll want to balance work and play!

Classes are self-select, meaning you're free to attend any class or level that feels right for you. Not sure where to start? Ask your teacher at your home studio or reach out to the camp staff for guidance.

For questions, email your camp director, Rubye Del, at email.

Welcome Jim Frechette to the Camp Teaching Staff

Instructor Jim Frechette performing an Argentine Tango with his student, Paula Domino.

Jim Frechette was introduced to ballroom dance over 35 years ago by his mother, an amateur dancer. He began his formal training with Fred Astaire Dance Studio in Virginia Beach, Virginia, where he received his teaching certification. Shortly after returning to Mississippi, he established his own studio, Applause Dance Factory, in 1999. With wide-ranging experience across a variety of styles, Jim has led his students to success in national and international competitions and showcase performances. His greatest love, however, lies in teaching. Although Jim teaches students of all ages, young people make up a large part of his student body. Nine years ago, Jim started a youth dance class through a local homeschool group. This class has grown to over 70 students per year. Jim's most influential coaches have been Jim and Jenell Maranto, Bob Powers, Julia Gorchakova, and Kasia Kozak. He enjoys the challenge of continuing to learn since he believes there is always something new to master regardless of age or experience.

He will be teaching Argentine Tango at camp this year!
